W. H. Miller on Constitutional Law.

In his speech at the Court-House Monday, Mr. Miller, who is certain to represent this county in the constitutional convention, gave his views on the changes necessary in our fundamental law, a synopsis of which we give below. Any of our readers who wish to take issue with Mr. Miller or to make suggestions on the subject are invited to do so. In the main, however, we think they will find that Mr. Miller's points are well taken, but of this we shall have more to say in the future:

Make a constitutional limit to taxation, State county and municipal.

Provide against executive pardon before conviction and otherwise regulate and restrict pardoning power.

Reduce the General Assembly to 30 senators and 70 representatives and place no limit upon the sessions of the General Assembly, but provide that the compensation of the members shall not exceed 60 days per diem. Prohibit all local legislation.

Abolish the offices of jailer, assessor, coroner, surveyor and county superintendent of schools.

Reduce the number of the justices of the peace so that each county shall have but three until its population reaches 15,000, after which give an additional one for every 5,000 increase of population.

Abolish the quarterly courts and transfer its business to the justices of the peace.

Require the justices of the peace to discharge the duties of assessor.

Let the justices of the peace and the county and probate judge constitute the county board of supervisors of the assessment list.

Require the justices of the peace and county judge to discharge the duties of county superintendent of schools.

Let the circuit court have civil jurisdiction only, with two terms a year, as at present.

Establish county court districts to be composed of two or more counties. Let such courts, in addition to the jurisdiction that they now have, have jurisdiction of all criminal and misdemeanor cases, with a criminal term of the court every month in each county, whereby no less than $400,000 a year could be saved in jailers' fees alone, the law better enforced and peace and order better maintained.

Let the judges of the county and probate courts have the same qualifications as the circuit judges.

If more than one supreme court is established let them consist one of three and the other of four judges. The first to have final jurisdiction of appeals from the county courts and the last final jurisdiction of appeals from the circuit courts.

Require that the jurisdiction of the justices of the peace shall be equal and uniform throughout the State.

Grade or classify the towns, and cities and require that every one of the same grade or class shall be governed by the same law.

Prohibit civil jurisdiction to police courts.

Let the sheriff discharge the duties of the jailer's office and the justices of the peace the duties of coroner. There is no necessity for county survivor.

Abolish the office of Commonwealth's attorney.

Make the salaries of the county attorneys equal and uniform throughout the State. Let the same be fixed by the legislature.

Change the time of holding the elections from August to November and let all elections, State, county or municipal, be held on the same day. Abolish special elections in cases of vacancies and fill vacancies by appointment until the next ensuing annual election.

Permanently locate the capitol at Frankfort and make provision for the gradual improvement of the capitol building.

The speaker did not maintain the foregoing opinions dogmatically, but recognizing his representative capacity, he asked for suggestions and said he would be governed by the will of his constituents.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. Father Richard P. Feehan, located at Holy Cross, Marion county, was found dead last Wednesday evening in his room at the Dennison Hotel, Cincinnati, where he had registered as C. D. Walsh.

The Kentucky Holiness Association will hold a meeting at Moreland July 29 to Aug. 3. As we understand it the association is made up entirely of men who do not sin, which if true would make the membership few and far between.

The Rev. W. Mitchell, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church at Fort Worth, Texas, has been arrested on a charge of forgery, the amount involved being $2,500. He was unable to procure bail and was locked up. The plea will be insanity.

The building at Bethany, W. Va., in which Alexander Campbell, the founder of the Christian church denomination, first preached, is to be removed bodily to the assembly ground at Bethany Park, near Brooklyn, where it can be preserved.

HON. R. C. WARREN.

Some Expressions of the State Press on His Candidacy For Auditor.

Hon. R. C. Warren, of Lincoln county, is a strong candidate for State auditor.—Richmond Climax.

The Hon. R. C. Warren, of Lincoln, has announced himself a candidate for auditor. Mr. Warren is spoken of in very high terms by the press.—Lebanon Standard.

Hon. R. C. Warren, of Lincoln, has announced himself a candidate for State auditor and he will make it rather warm for his competitors.—Carlsbad Mercury

The INTERIOR JOURNAL of Tuesday, formally announces Hon. R. C. Warren a candidate for State auditor. Mr. Warren was Lincoln county's representative in the Legislature and was a valuable member.—Danville Advocate.

Democratic Convention.

In compliance with a call of the district committee the democrats of Lincoln county are requested to meet at the court-house in Stanford, Wednesday, July 30, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the district convention, to be held at Lawrenceburg Aug. 7, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress in this, the eighth district.

T. D. NEWLAND, Chmn.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mr. Charles Kendall Adams, president of Cornell University, was married recently in London to Mrs. Mary Mathews Barnes, widow of the late Mr. A. S. Barnes, the well-known book publisher of New York.

—Mrs. Frank Leslie denies very emphatically that she will marry the Marquis de Lennville and says if she should ever decide to take another husband it will be a journalist. Mrs. Leslie is a very sensible as well as a very pretty woman.

—An Indianapolis woman, who has been eight times divorced is 37 years old and came from a family noted for its divorces. Her mother had six divorces and is living with her seventh husband. An uncle and two aunts have each been married five times. They are still young.

—Squire Massie Beazley, of Aberdeen, sends Craddock his photograph and writes: "The number of marriages I have officiated at since April, 1870, to July 1st, 1890, as shown by my record, is 4,121, and since Jan. 1890, I have officiated to the number of 72 marriages up to July 1st.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—FOR SALE.—300 stock ewes and 300 wethers. Givens & Carter, Moreland.

—Isaac Herren bought of Rockcastle 18 head of 2 and 3-year-old heifers and steers at 2 to 21 cents.

—Roger Early, who bought Waveley, the farm of the late David Humphries in Woodford, sold 125 acres of standing hemp at $25 per acre. He also leased his farm of 400 acres for three years at $3,100 per year.

—Cattle are dull in Cincinnati with good choice shippers at 4 to 41. From that the price runs down to 11 for very common; hogs are easy with 3.80 for tops; sheep are steady at 2½ to 4½; lambs are dull at 3½ to 7½.

—Yates Hudson bought in Louisville last week five extra nice work mules, about 16 hands high, for $1,050. E. W. Lee bought of D. L. Moore, of Anderson county, 144 head of 1,200-pound cattle at $3.65.—Danville Advocate.

—Santaine, a Lincoln county horse, was badly beaten by Atticus, a 10 to 1 scrub, at Chicago. George Wheelock, the plunger, who had bet $10,000 on him, charged that he was pulled and demanded an investigation. It was proved that Santaine's owner had bet $2,500 on him and this was taken as evidence that he was entered to win.

—A dispatch from Gallatin says that Col. J. C. Rodemer has purchased the old Albion Jockey Club grounds, of 400 acres, near that city, and intends to stock it with fine blooded horses and to erect stables upon the grounds for the purpose of training horses through the winter. The track, one mile, has been considered the finest in the South.

—Small-pox is raging in portions of Mexico.

—The Federal government is threatened with a deficit of $53,000,000 for the fiscal year—and this is the time of profound peace, and when the annual income is about $450,000,000.

MCKINNEY.

—There will be services at the Baptist church next Saturday and Sunday.

—Georgia Ann, daughter of William Walls, died of measles on the night of the 4th.

—The Commercial Hotel is doing a flourishing business now. Mr. Good reports 17 boarders, mostly railroad bridge hands.

—W. T. Pyne, of the firm of W. T. Pyne & Co., of Louisville, is here with a force of hands putting rollers in K. L. Tanner's mill.

—Miss Nannie Bailey gave a delightful social Tuesday night and although the weather was very inclement there were several couples present who enjoyed it to the highest degree.

—K. L. Tanner has bought a few crops of wheat at 75 cents per bushel. Those who have threshed reported a poor yield. J. B. Green, of Hustonville, is in the neighborhood buying wheat.

—Miss Linda Coleman, the accomplished daughter of Thomas Coleman, of Plano, Texas, is visiting the family of John S. Good. Miss Maggie Bibb, who has been employed as milliner in the firm of J. E. Fogle & Co., of Hartford, is back home for a few days with friends and relatives. Miss Marcum, of near Hustonville, was over a day or two to see Miss Hunter, of Hillsborough, who is visiting the family of L. F. Sharp. Miss Ollie Davison is quite ill with flux.

GREEN-BRIAR AND DRIPPING SPRINGS

HOTEL KATYDID, July 17.

(To the Editor of the Interior Journal.) Our house is now well filled with guests and for the next few days we can only give new arrivals cots. To-night we have our Grand Phantom Party. Lancaster, Stanford and Crab Orchard people invited.

—WANTED.—A young lady or gentleman immediately to play accompaniment on piano for the entire season. Will furnish board and pay a fair price. About two hours' work per day is all that is required. Respt., D. G. SLAUGHTER.

A Correction.

(To the Editor of the Interior Journal.) All a mistake about my being knocked down at Holdam's Mill Saturday, or elsewhere. At Bee Lick Chappell accused me of misrepresentation and I told him it was infamously false and took one of my old-fashioned running goes at him, but before reaching him I was caught and so was he and not a blow was struck.

As to the truth of this I refer to the 100 voters present. I spoke that night at Holdam's Mill and had no opponent. At Bee Lick both parties demeaned themselves like gallant knights and he appeared as willing to fight as I, which means he displayed considerable eagerness.

FONTAINE E. BOHNETT.

A Corroboration.

The matter is not one of great importance, but in order to protect our Crab Orchard correspondent from a charge of misrepresentation, we publish the following from Bee Lick from an eye witness:

"After about 50 voters had congregated themselves under the shade of some white oak trees the speaking began Mr. Chappell led off with a 25 or 30-minute speech, which was to the point and made a good impression on the crowd. Then followed the Hon. Bobbitt with a scattering speech of one hour and 45 minutes, which proved somewhat nauseating before he closed. He began by telling the people of the many important bills he had passed while a member of the Kentucky Legislature. Then he took up the financial condition of Lincoln county and handled Judge Varnon without gloves, and when he got through one could hardly tell whether he was running for county judge or justice of the peace. Mr. Chappell replied in a 20-minute speech and during his speech made the remark that Bobbitt had misrepresented things all along the line. Bobbitt took this as an insult and arose from where he was sitting, some 20 feet from Mr. Chappell, and said he would not take the lie off of any man and advanced toward Chappell. Mr. Chappell seeing he had a fight on his hands, threw off his coat and met Mr. Bobbitt on the half way grounds, and while Mr. Bobbitt was making an attempt to strike Chappell with his fist, Mr. Chappell proved to be too quick for him and extended his right forearm, striking Bobbitt in the chest with such force as to cause him to lose his equilibrium and he fell backward down a hill of an angle of about 45 degrees, the back of his head striking the hard ground first and his heels flying some five or six feet in the air. Our first impression was concussion of the brain, but fortunately we find no greater derangement of mind than there has been for many years. Friends interfered and quietude again reigned in a few minutes and Mr. Chappell continued his speech as if nothing had occurred and Bobbitt sat quietly and listened with patience as if something had occurred."

—A dispatch from Gallatin says that Col. J. C. Rodemer has purchased the old Albion Jockey Club grounds, of 400 acres, near that city, and intends to stock it with fine blooded horses and to erect stables upon the grounds for the purpose of training horses through the winter. The track, one mile, has been considered the finest in the South.

—Small-pox is raging in portions of Mexico.

—The Federal government is threatened with a deficit of $53,000,000 for the fiscal year—and this is the time of profound peace, and when the annual income is about $450,000,000.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - JULY 18, 1890

W. P. WALTON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Superior Judge, JOSEPH BARBOUR.
Appellate Clerk, W. W. LONGMOOR.
County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON.
County Attorney, JOSEPH R. PAXTON.
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER.
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEFFER.
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS.
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY.
Supt of Common Schools, W. F. McCLARY.
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS.
Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

Woman in Politics.

The problems involved in civil government and its correct administration have ever been and will continue to be difficult of solution. The necessity for some sort of government is found in the very nature of every human being. Every man is, in a smaller or greater measure, by turns a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde. He understands this truth, and in his better moods he makes a compact with every other man by which the repressive influence of society may be exercised toward all alike. No form of government ever devised has been found adequate to the end designed, and the reason lies upon the surface: the creature cannot arise above the Creator. Discontent becomes rife because of the need of a perfect government and the inability of man to frame one. Revolutions and rebellions ensue, which become glorious and patriotic according solely to the measure of success which attends them, and not according to the good they may bring or the evils they may remove.

Content with their form of government, people tax their energies in devising the ways and means of its proper administration. Questions of principle, of expediency, of organic construction are ever uppermost in the public mind, and a brief period of repose from the resulting anxiety is as welcome as the shadow of a great rock to the traveler. To construct, to maintain, to administer a government is a great burden—a burden which exacts something more than intelligence, something more than conscience, something which does not find its counterpart or its response in female character, unless the female be an Amazon. A woman in politics! In justice to herself, to the name she bears, to the history she adorns, to the virtues she illustrates, to the graces she personates, has she any business there?

Misguided people, who would thrust upon her the noxious, the unwomanly gift of suffrage, delude themselves with the platitude that she has as much right to participate in the affairs of the government which controls her and her property as a man has. In the same sense she has a right—a cold, legal right—to chop wood, to dig coal, to plow, to brake on a freight train or to ride straddle. Properly and even decently looked at, the question is not one of right or even of privilege. To a man who cherishes the mother who bore him or loves the wife who cleaves to him, it is a question both of reverence and of propriety. As just observed, the maintenance of a government is a burden, a grievous one, and, if not of necessity, certainly by practice, a very dirty one. Voting and holding office are among the means commonly employed to put the machinery of government in motion, and in the exercise of these means is generally found the heaviest sprinkling of filth. The burden is obviously a masculine one, and he who would shift it upon the shoulders of a female has no call to berate his neighbor who makes his wife carry his horse or black his boots.

Suffrage is not, and never was, by any government, held to be an inherent right, as some of the zealous apostles of woman's rights rather loudly proclaim. It is simply a privilege conferred by government upon such of its citizens as it may deem can most wisely and fitly exercise it. If it were a right, then it would attach to the new-born babe as fixedly and inviolably as to the man of 21 years. If it were a right, then the citizen of Boyle county could vote in Lincoln county, or the citizen of Texas in the State of Kentucky. The rights to life, to liberty and to property are the recognized inherent rights wherever the common law has taken root, and these may be exercised and enjoyed anywhere in this country, regardless of age, sex or residence. But voting or holding an office is a mere franchise, which government may grant or withhold at its pleasure. In no republic which ever existed, in no State of this Union, except the barren municipality of Wyoming, recently admitted for political effect, has woman suffrage ever prevailed by permission of law.

It is a well-known historical fact that the legislature of Wyoming passed the original woman suffrage act in a drunken frolic at the close of a session, but happily the legislature of no other Territory has ever got drunk enough to follow suit. The influence of women in politics and the practical working of female suffrage can be observed in that sparsely settled borrough by those who are doubtful or anxious for information. Our information is that women in that State sell their votes just as do men; that they hire out to the best paying party, and on election days drive buggies and wagons about bringing the female sovereign to the polls; that they go to caucuses, ward meetings, wrestle with the brethren in conventions, parade the streets in torch-light processions, and in a word do everything else that men under the stimulus of mean whisky and political excitement are in the habit of doing on election day.

Woman suffrage, outside of Wyoming, seems to be the especial bantling of the prohibitionists. They believe, or affect to, that they can ride into power and abolish all the saloons by the help of the female vote. They are great believers in statistical arguments, and avert this delusion we give them the following historical and statistical facts. Woman suffrage has been allowed in Wyoming about 20 years; the female voters are nearly equal in number to the male voters; the women, we are sorry to say, generally vote in proportion to population there are a greater number of saloons and more whisky used as a beverage in Wyoming than in Kentucky; and while the prices of all the necessities of life are about twice greater in Wyoming than in Kentucky, yet the price of a saloon license is about $\frac{1}{2}$ less.

We are profoundly convicted both by the reason of the thing and from all information we can gather that woman suffrage will end in evil and evil only. It hardens and masculinizes a woman and we greatly fear it would result in her debasement. If any man or set of men would, simply for the sake of an expected party advantage, entice a woman into an arena where there is every temptation to soil the purity of her character and blunt the delicacy of her nature, he or they would deserve the maledictions of his kind. What Kentucky needs in the inner circle of social and moral life, is good mothers, not statesmanship. No young man wants a ward-bummer for a sweetheart, no married man wants a pot-house politician for a wife! Leastwise, this is the sentiment in Kentucky and Old Virginia, God bless them both!

The prohibitionists, after numerous and sundry attempts to get some one to run against Judge Varnon, have at last succeeded. They have also put out a candidate against W. H. Miller for delegate to the constitutional convention, against G. B. Coopers for county clerk and Sam M. Owens for jailer. No nominations have been made for the other offices, either because they ran out of material or because they only chose to fight those whom they think most obnoxious to them. The gentlemen who are thus marked for the wrecking of prohibition displeasure have attended to their duties faithfully and conscientiously and the sole cause of their offending lies in the fact that they have not felt it their duty to seek and follow the advice of the few malcontents, who are monkeying as the "Godlmighty" party, bent on reforming the world and then taking a whack at Heaven. That they are not governed by principle, but spite, in their actions, is too plain to admit of a doubt and that their object is to harass and destroy the democratic party is equally as evident. This being the case the time for conciliation is past and the watchword should hereafter be, "War to the knife and the knife to the hilt" against the so-called prohibition party, which is as hostile to the democracy as the republican party is. In fact some of its isms and dogmas are fully as repugnant to democratic principles as any of those of the republicans and could only be advocated by short-haired women, long-haired men and other disgusting cranks. We refer especially to woman suffrage, the result of which would be to lower, debase and unsex those whom every true man delights to honor and wants to keep pure from the contaminating influence of politics and the besetting sin attendant upon it. They would have our wives, our sisters and our daughters crowd to the polls with the prostitutes and the ignorant and vicious of both races and take them from their high estate to grovel in the dust of partisan rancor and party rows, and add another to the many causes that create family rows and the alienation of husbands and wives. The simple contemplation of the evils that would result from the enfranchisement of women is enough to disgust any but the most blinded and one-ideaed prohibitionist, and ought to drive every sensible man from the support of such a party. Democrats of Lincoln, are you going to sit idly by and see this blindness of folly and political madness get a foothold in your county? Do you intend that this party of hate and spite, composed in the main of sore-headed renegades and miserable nonentities, shall triumph over the democratic party and the excellent ticket it has put out? If you do not, shake off your lethargy, awaken to the importance of the hour and rally as one man to its support.

COL. T. H. ARNOLD is firing hot shot into the city councilmen for rejecting his bid for the city printing and giving it to the Democrat, a paper but three weeks old, at higher prices than the News, with a large and established circulation, offered to do it for. At this distance it does look like the man who has borne the burden and heat of the day has very serious cause for complaint.

The democrats of Madison have very sensibly decided not to give a republican walk-over for delegate to the constitutional convention and named a candidate in the person of R. H. Crooke, who is said to be a capital man.

Baby, baby don't get in a fury,
Your mother's gone to sit on the jury.
This is the chorus of a new nursery song composed and set to music by James T. Hackley, of Lincoln county, the chief musician of the woman suffragist-prohibition party of Kentucky. It is to be sung after the election of Mrs. Henry by all the young daddies in the State between 10 and 12 o'clock at night. It is beautifully illustrated. The frontispiece consists of a picture of a young man, clad in a short petticoat, with a night cap on his head. Across his lap is spread a cloth which looks very much like a large white pocket handkerchief.
His left arm is wound like a snake around the writhing, struggling form of a squalling infant, while with his right hand he is endeavoring to thrust a nursing bottle down the little monster's throat.
It is a touching, home-like picture, so suggestive of beautiful, tender, suppressed cussin'. The glare of the eye, the knotted, drawn brow, the clenched teeth all indicate that the artist has interpreted the poet; for the poet, instead of writing solo every now and then, has written the more expressive words, "You d—n little cuss!" The song promises to have a great run and our business manager, who is practicing on it, says that the melody of a fine soprano male voice, united with the deep bass of a female, will give "affliction a grace and reconcile man to his lot."

SECRETARY BLAINE has written a letter to Senator Frye on the evil results that will follow the adoption of the McKinley tariff jingle as a law. He urges Senators to refuse to abolish the revenue duty on sugar, and, instead, to use it as the price of free trade with the West Indies and South America. He also says "Our foreign market for bread stuffs grows narrower. Great Britain is exerting every nerve to secure her bread supply from India, and the rapid expansion of the wheat area in Russia gives us a powerful competitor in the markets of Europe." These are alarming facts and it is said that if the bill becomes a law over his protest, Secretary Blaine will resign, issue a manifesto giving his views on reciprocity, and enter the race for the presidency in 1892. He is by long odds the greatest man in his party and has a knack of casting an anchor to windward at the most opportune time.

The president signed the silver bill as soon as it reached him and he and Secretary Windom at once approved designs for the new Treasury notes, which will differ from the previous issues in bearing the words, "United States of America" instead of simply "United States." They will say on their face that they are redeemable in coin, and on their back that they are a legal tender for all debts, public and private. Portraits of ex-Secretary Stanton will appear on the ones; Gen. Thomas on the fives; Gen. Sheridan on the tens; Admiral Farragut on the one hundreds and Gen. Meade on the one thousands. The two, twenty and fifty dollar notes have not yet been decided upon; but it is probable they will contain portraits of Gen. McPherson, ex-President William Henry Harrison and ex-Secretary Morrill respectively. The law goes into effect Aug. 14.

JOHN D. WHITE is not helping the cause of Judge Tinsley to any alarming extent. He sneers at the fact that he was nominated by storekeepers and gaunters and intimates very plainly that the object of the race is not so much to win as to raid on still-house watchships. He moreover says that Mrs. Henry is the best man for the place and everybody ought to vote for her. His sole object when thinking of entering the race himself was to pave the way to leaving a clear field for the woman and electing her with the republican vote. Every line of the interview with Mr. White, which appears in the Louisville Times, shows that he is disgruntled over the preference of Tinsley and will not rend his linen in the race that is to take all of the union democrats into the camp of the enemy.

THE CHRONIC OLD SORE-HEAD, COL. R. T. JACOB, WHO RAN AGAINST TOM HENRY FOR APPELLATE CLERK AND WAS IGNOminiously DEFEATED, CLAIMS THAT HE IS STILL A DEMOCRAT, BUT HAS WRITTEN TO JUDGE TINSLEY SAYING HE WILL SUPPORT HIM, BECAUSE COMRADESHIP AND NOT DEMOCRACY GOVERNED THE LATE CONVENTION WHICH NOMINATED WOODFORD LONGMOOR OVER COL. MATT ADAMS. COL. JACOB IS A VERY NICE DEMOCRAT INDEED. HE RUNS AGAINST THE PARTY'S NOMINEE WHEN IT SUITS HIM TO AND REFUSES TO SUPPORT OTHERS THAT ARE NOT MADE TO HIS ORDER. THE FACT THAT SUCH A MAN HAS WRITTEN SUCH A LETTER TO JUDGE TINSLEY WILL NOT HELP HIS CAUSE OR INCREASE HIS FOLLOWING.

DR. KELLEY, A METHODIST PREACHER, WHO WAS NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR BY THE TENNESSEE PROHIBITIONISTS, HAS CREATED A SENSOBY DECLINING THE HONOR. THE BISHOP WAS PREPARING TO FILL HIS PLACE AS PASTOR AT GALLATIN, WHILE HE GAVE UP HIS SACRED CALLING TO PURSUE THE PHANTASMAGORIA OF POLITICS. THE DOCTOR HAS DECIDED WISELY. THE MOMENT A PREACHER DROPS HIS CLERICAL ROBES AND DONS THE POLITICAL LIVERY HIS INFLUENCE FOR GOOD ENDS AND SAINT AND SINNER ALIKE BECOME SUSPICIOUS OF HIM.

OUR PER CAPITA FOR SCHOOLS THIS YEAR IS $2.25 FOR BOTH BLACK AND WHITE, AN INCREASE OF 10 CENTS OVER LAST YEAR. IT HAS BEEN CLIMBING RIGHT ALONG FOR YEARS AND IS DESTINED TO REACH, IF NOT EXCEED, ANY STATE IN THE UNION SIMILARLY SITUATED.

WE ARE CHAMPIONS

There is no doubt of it. We are champions in the Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing, Hat, Trunk, Carpet and Oil Cloth trade. First, for selling the best goods for the least money; second, for selling at the lowest prices; third, for allowing you to exchange anything you buy if you are not pleased; fourth, for truth telling in regard to what we have to sell, both in the store and in the paper. There are dozens of other things in which we lead for the championship, which you know as well as we do.

A Long Run Makes a Short Jump.

The steady, healthful growth of trade in all of the departments of our business has proven that the cash system, conducted in a fair and square business like manner is the most satisfactory to the masses. Under this leading rule, backed by long experience, by excellent goods and low uniform prices,

We Have Attracted and Pleased

All classes of people and at the present rate of increase we'll have to spread out and enlarge all of our departments. Buyers of any goods in our line will find it greatly to their interest to visit

THE + LOUISVILLE + STORE

And select from the many attractive bargains that are on display. Prices are no longer an object with us. Our only aim is to clear out our immense stock. To accomplish this the greater portion of our stock has been cut half in two.

A. H. O. T. BUCHANAN, THE FARMERS' CANDIDATE, SUCCEEDED IN ORGANIZING THE CONVENTION AND THE FIRST BALLOT STOOD, BUCHANAN, 759; PATTERSON, 379; BAXTER, 297; TAYLOR, 177. NECESSARY TO A CHOICE, 845. BALLOTTING WAS RESUMED WEDNESDAY AND EIGHT WERE TAKEN WITH NO MATERIAL CHANGE. GREAT DISORDER CHARACTERIZED THE PROCEEDINGS AND EVERY EFFORT WAS MADE TO DOWN THE LEADER, WHICH SEEMED AT LAST ACCOUNTS TO BE APPROACHING SUCCESS.

FORAKER CAME OUT OF HIS TOMB, WEDNESDAY, LONG ENOUGH TO ACT AS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF THE STATE CONVENTION AT CLEVELAND. HE MADE A SPEECH, BUT IT WAS SO UNLIKE THE FORMER FORAKER THAT IT WAS HARDLY RECOGNIZABLE, SO MEAK AND LOWLY HAS HE BECOME. A CUT AND DRIED TICKET WAS NOMINATED AND THE ADMINISTRATION ENDORSED AD NAUSEAM.

THE LAST ISSUE OF THE FRANKFORT CAPITAL IS AS BIG AS ALL OUTDOORS. IT CONTAINS BEIDES ITS USUAL QUOTA OF EXCELLENT ORIGINAL AND SELECTED MATTER, THE TITLES AND SYNOPTICS OF THE ACTS PASSED BY THE LATE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, WHICH MAKES IT ESPECIALLY VALUABLE AS A READY REFERENCE.

He will retire to his farm near Stanford, where he proposes to pass the remainder of his life under his own vine and fig tree. He was one of the most valuable men in Mr. Dearing's employ, but he has amassed a competence and preferred to leave business for agriculture.—Courier Journal.

MR. BRUCE HALDEMAN, of the Courier Journal, who is spending the week at Crab Orchard Springs, was here yesterday in the interest of his paper, accompanied by his niece, Miss Mary Bruce Haldeaman. Mr. Haldeaman is one of the most thoroughly equipped newspaper men in the State and is greatly in love with his profession. His education was with a view to it, he has traveled extensively abroad and in this country and is a keen observer of men and things. There is no place on his father's great newspaper that he cannot fill creditably and none that he would despise to take in an emergency. A bright future is in store for him.

CITY AND VICINITY.

BEFORE buying your coal see B. K. Wearen.

It is settling time and I want what you owe me. Take this to yourself. W. B. McRoberts.

Two hundred thousand first-class brick now ready for delivery. Price reasonable. B. K. Wearen.

I WILL be able to accommodate all who attend the Hustonville Fair and will do so in first-class style. P. W. Green, proprietor Weatherford Hotel.

Buy wire screens for doors and windows of Sime & Menefee.

WAYNESBURG.—Judge Thomas W. Varnon, democratic candidate for county judge, will address the people at Waynesburg to-morrow, 10th, at 2 p. m.

On account of the recent strike of the switchmen the pay car failed to make its appearance on Tuesday, but will go up the line to-day scattering filthy lucre.

MRS. PHELPS, wife of Larkin Phelps, died at her home at Rowland, Wednesday, of typhoid fever. Her two daughters are also very low with that disease.

D. S. CARPENTER, of Somerset, will be in Hustonville on the 18th and will remain a few days. Those indebted to him are expected to settle their accounts without further delay.

THE 1st of July has come and gone and I would take it as a special favor if those who owe me would call and settle. Please do not neglect this as I need the money. Mrs. Kate Duddar.

Two premiums will be given at the Hustonville Fair next week, which were omitted from the catalogue. J. P. Crow will give $50 for the best colt of his Belmont Chief and L. F. Steele $5 for the best silk quilt.

DANVILLE FAIR.—Mr. S. S. Myers, of Stanford, secured the entire privilege of checking all baggage, feeding and covering for the horses, renting the booths and entertaining the yaps and kids with the air guns and wooden babies for $302.50.—Advocate.

The entire amount of money taken in by Secretary A. A. Warren, of the Building & Loan Association, since its beginning, Aug. 6, 1887, for dues, interest notes, etc., to July 1, was $22,049.60. This is a little bigger business than a good many thought it would be.

The missionary society of the Main street Christian church Lexington, will run an excursion over the Old Kentucky Route to Old Point Comfort at $13 for the round-trip from Lexington on the 22d. The C. & O. will run an excursion to the same point, July 29th, at $12.50 from Cincinnati.

THE first regiment of Kentucky State guards, of Louisville, will pass up Saturday night to go into camp for a week at Cumberland Gap. Col. M. H. Camp has selected the grounds, which are three-fourths of a mile from Middlesboro, and the 90 tents are being pitched. It is said that Gov. Buckner and Col. Castleman will spend sometime with the boys.

At the sale of the real estate of the late Mrs. Jennie Armendt, at Crab Orchard, Tuesday, the large residence, which cost $8,000, sold for $1,725; the house and 8½ acres of land between that and the Springs, sold for $725; the store room occupied by Dave Payne $205 and a vacant lot on Stanford street for $200. Mr. John Buchanan was the purchaser of each. Several other lots on Stanford street sold at $55 to $100.

A REPRESENTATIVE for Dr. Barker's Cuban remedies came in town Tuesday and declared that he was going to sue the Danville and Crab Orchard pike for damages. He was traveling in a fancy painted wagon and was very mad indeed because Mrs. McAfee had accidentally pulled the pole down on him before he had driven entirely through the gate and had caused the top of his wagon to present a rather forlorn appearance. He consulted a lawyer or two in regard to instituting suit for damages, but was given so little encouragement that later on he was glad to compromise with the road company, which agreed to repair the vehicle and make it as good as new.

We have never contended that Ezra S. Gooch was a Solomon, but we had supposed all along that he had too much honor to desert his friends and forget the party which lifted him from obscurity and placed him as its representative in the legislative halls at Frankfort. But it seems that we were mistaken. He has accepted the nomination for county judge tendered him by a few prohibitionists, who wish to gratify a spite against Judge Varnon, and enters into a race to try to defeat the man, who, together with his son, Wallace E. Varnon, stood by him firmly when it seemed that he was destined to be withdrawn from the ticket or be ignominiously defeated by Mr. Bobbitt. Mr. Varnon placed him in nomination before the convention and when it was thought by the committee that he could not win and one or more of its members resigned, because he was not taken from the ticket, the Varnons insisted that he could win and begged that he be given the chance. Mr. Gooch was given the chance and won, though it took hard work and much money to accomplish it. We gave $50 ourselves to aid in securing his victory and the usual contributors came nobly to the rescue. And yet Mr. Gooch writes us that he doesn't consider he owes the democratic party or its representatives anything. We suppose he thinks that his mighty service at Frankfort fully paid off the debt. Well, may be it did, and we are glad he thinks so. Still, there will be those who think with the Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt, that he was a cypher in the Legislature, and that his seat was fully as vacant then as when he occupied it or not. It is to be regretted that Mr. Gooch has placed himself in the attitude he has, but if he can stand it the democracy can, and we can too, though we dislike to lose confidence in a friend.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL, who is spending the week at Crab Orchard Springs, was here yesterday in the interest of his paper, accompanied by his niece, Miss Mary Bruce Haldeaman. THE evangelist, M. B. Williams, writes that he will arrive Saturday to commence his meeting at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

CHARLES KELLEY, who used to work at the shoemaker's trade here, was back to see his old friends this week. The reunion was too much for him and to counteract it he got gloriously drunk. The amount of his fine was $6.

THE stockholders of the Cumberland Valley Land Company held their annual meeting here Wednesday and elected the following directors: Judge Robert Boyd, Judge Vincent Boreing, James W. Fox, J. S. Hocker, W. G. Welch, Gov. J. B. McCleary, W. P. Walton, R. B. Whitridge and J. A. Craft. The directors then met and re-elected Judge Boreing president and J. S. Hocker secretary and treasurer.

MR. L. H. RAMSEY, of this city, has organized a base ball team, composed of the best home talent, and it will be known as the "Black Stockings." Mr. Ramsey has perfected arrangements with the Chautauqua Assembly whereby he will get the use of Woodland Park for the rest of the season.—Lexington dispatch in Louisville Times. Among the clubs named to play Ramsey's Black Stockings is the INTERIOR JOURNAL, but we opine our boys have had enough of traveling.

MR. E. T. FOSTER, of Lexington, son of our townsmen, T. J. Foster, is with relatives in this county this week. He was in to see us Tuesday and left copy of the Cyclopaedia he has recently issued.

There is hardly a subject that it does not treat succinctly and intelligently and its 400 pages literally teem with valuable statistics, suggestions and facts. It is a book that ought to be in the hands of everybody, and the low price of 50 cents will enable the poorest to take advantage of it. As a compendium of knowledge it is absolutely incomparable.

A horse belonging to Mr. Peter Carter was left standing in front of the mill Wednesday hitched to a light wagon. It was the old family horse and through the long years he had been in use had never shown fear at anything, hence great confidence had been put him, but a freight train came whistling up the grade, just at the most inopportune time and the docile animal pricked his ears and lit out. He chose the railroad track and ran at a break-neck speed down toward the Danville crossing with the engine rapidly following him, and for a while it looked like the horse would be overtaken. The engineer slackened up as much as possible, but it was a case of luck that the horse was not killed and the wagon smashed. Strange to say, neither the wagon nor harness was injured.

DR. BROOKS.—We do not know that the fact that a man has run for the presidency on the forlorn hope of the prohibitionists, makes any greater one of him, but the members of that party seem to think it gives more weight to his words and have accordingly hired him at $25 a day and expenses to preach their dogmas and advocate Mrs. Henry's election to the appellate clerkship. In his tour of the State, the doctor put in an appearance here Tuesday afternoon and was greeted by a reasonable number of the elect and a fair sprinkling of women. He is a good speaker and made some good points, but his way of abusing people who do not fall down and accept prohibition and its follies is not calculated to strengthen his party or add votes to Mrs. Henry's wild goose chase after office. Among other harsh things he said: "Sam Jones says, and I heartily endorse it, that the preacher who does not talk prohibition, preach prohibition and vote prohibition is a pusillanimous pup, too small to be dignified by the name of dog." There are any number of preachers who do not think it their duty to give up their sacred calling to become politicians and this kind of talk will not make any man of spirit feel any better towards a cause whose leaders are so fanatical. The doctor was very earnest in his advocacy of woman suffrage and saw nothing but good to result from it. Another proof that there are none so blind as those who will not see. A redeeming feature of the doctor's speech was his complimentary reference to Grover Cleveland, of whom he is a great admirer. He thinks he or some other democrat will be elected next time, after which the disintegration already commenced in the republican party will become complete. In 1896 the contest will be between the democracy and the prohibitionists, when the latter will win and the former go to the demnition bow wows. The millennium will of course be ushered in at the same time and everybody having been legislated into morality and christianity, can spend his time singing hallalujahs and peans of praises to the party which has caused such a wonderful reformation. At the conclusion of Dr. Brooks' two hours' speech the inevitable collection was taken up. Two responded to his call for $5, two answered the $2.50 proposition and about three the call for $1 each. Then the hat was passed around for the smaller contributions and about another dollar raised, making $18 or $19 as the result of the appeal. We noticed one good old brother, who stamped louder and hallooed keener than anybody, refuse each of the appeals and finally failed to see the hat when it was shoved in his face. Prohibition like salvation must be free to suit some people.

SEVERAL hard rains have fallen this week and the farmers ought to be happy. Yesterday was showery and consequently some cooler.

HON. JOHN YOUNG BROWN, democratic candidate for governor, will speak at Danville next Monday, county court day, at 1:30 and at Stanford the next day, 22d, at same hour. If you want to hear an orator, who is an orator, come and hear Mr. Brown.

AN ARTIST.—Will Dunn, the young man who seems to be happiest when he is writing checks, spent some of his idle moments in jail drawing pictures of his fellow prisoners. His latest work is a life size crayon of Wils Jennings, the Harlan county desperado, which is a very creditable piece of work and which is on exhibition in the court-house vestibule. He made the picture in two minutes by the watch. It's a pity he does not devote his entire attention to that line.

CINCINNATI FOR $2.—The Kentucky Central will run a special train to Cincinnati Sunday leaving Rowland at 5:30 a. m. and arriving at 11 o'clock. The fare for the round-trip from all points between Rowland and Richmond will be only $2 and beyond that point $1.50. Thirteen hours in the city give ample time to take in the many sights as well as go on the excursion to Coney Island, which will only be 25 cents extra.

EPOCH:

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health is often a trial in life of the individual, such a remarkable change is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel that they could do without them.

Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, or long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cts. and $1 per bottle at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shantz, Pastor United States Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says "It is my duty to tell what we others Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could die at any moment. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 20 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folk's Combinations, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for consumption. In whooping cough and croup, it is magic and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles to all.

The mayor of Fort Worth, Texas, who was supposed to be a married man, created a sensation by taking another woman to wife in the person of a pretty telephone girl. Afterwards it transpired that he had obtained a divorce from his first wife in Chicago without her knowledge, a fact which shows the laxity of divorce laws in this country and calls for immediate reform.

Mr. W. H. Spradlin, who is building railroads in Alabama, came up during the week. Miss Maggie, his pretty daughter, accompanied him on his return. Mr. M. J. Miller was in Louisville yesterday to meet M. C. Miller, who is there on business from Austin, Texas. Bob Teel, Henry George's representative, is running a rock train here this week. Mrs. Georgia Rice is teaching at Wildie. Miss Lucille Joplin is teaching at Orlando. Mrs. J. H. Brown returned to Lancaster yesterday. Mr. W. H. Cocks has erysipelas. Miss Lena Newcomb is visiting relatives in Garrard.

In Memory of Alice.
